Supt. Eldridge, Agent Craft and Atty.
for Railway Meet Ald. Hirschheim-er, Keller, Goddard and Downs

At a meeting this morning in the office of General Agent C. L. V.
Craft between Supt. B. F. Eldridge, Agent Craft and Attorney P. W. Mahoney for the railroad, Pres. Edwards of the city railway, and Ald.
Keller, Hirschheimer, Goddard and Downs for the city, an agreement
was reached whereby the Milwaukee Railroad company will eliminate all switching on the Mill street crossing or other street crossings on the North side.

The entire switching yards will be moved and when the improvement is completed only through main tracks
will pass through the North side.

The improvement will cost approximately $60,000, and if acted upon favorably by the officials of the road
the work will be started at once.

At the meeting in Mr. Craft's office this morning the plan which had been prepared by the company's engineers was submitted and met with the approval of Supt. Eldridge.
It contemplates an entire elimination of switching through the North side streets and is complete in detail in the way of providing new and adequate switching yards for the C.
M. & St. P. in this city. The plan also met with the approval of the council members. Supt. Eldridge receives assurances of co-operation and support from the aldermen and will return a favorable report on the plan to the officials of the road, which will mean the change will be voted upon and made at once.

Location a Secret.
The new location for the yards is understood to have been decided upon, but it is being withheld until the plan is fully materialized. There is of course only two places where the yards could be placed, one between the north and south sides, and the other northeast of the present yards and in the vicinity of Grand Crossing. This, however, remains a secret with the officials and the aldermen and will not be disclosed at the present time.

Secrecy Is Maintained.
The first intimation of "something doing" came today when Alderman
G. A. Keller, chairman of the railroad committee of the council, asked that announcement be made that there would be no meeting of the railroads and ordinance committees tonight, as planned, owing to the fact that there were developments in the situation which needed to be looked into before the council took action looking to a betterment of the Mill street crossing arrangement.
It was later learned that Supt.
Eldridge of the C. M. & St. P. was in the city in conference with councilmembers and reporters after pursuing interested parties secured the following rather vague statement issued by Agent Craft:

Road's Statement.
"General Agent Craft advises that a definite plan has practically been decided upon by which all switching,
over Mill street crossing will be eliminated."

"The place proposed by Mr. Craft
was gone over this forenoon by Supt.
Eldridge and the company's engineer together with President Edwards of the street car company, who has personally promised valuable assistance and contributed important suggestions for the successful working out of the plan."

"Supt. Eldridge believes the plan to be both practical and economical,
and has given assurance that it will be worked out at the earliest possible date by the engineering department and believes that no material physical obstacles will be encountered."

"Mr. Mahoney, the company's attorney, has gone into the matter
quite thoroughly and sees no legal obstacles in the way of carrying out
the proposed plan and believes that the city will cheerfully grant what little concession may be asked of them."

"Mr. Craft states that for good

The New Jersey delegation to the republican national convention at Chicago has been instructed to present the candidacy of Franklin Murphy for vice president. Since the action of the New Jersey convention,
the Murphy boomers have had many assurances of support from outside his native state. It is declared he will undoubtedly have Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and

New Hampshire votes, a large share of New York and a number of southern and western delegates. Mr. Murphy was formerly governor of New and which bears his name is now one of the most famous in the world.

LA CROSSE RULED BY 6-YEAR-OLD MAYOR FOR AN HOUR OR TWO

"How do you make all the people mind? You can't see them all from here!"

That was the burden on the mind of Mr. Anderson, 6 years old, of Detroit, and he unloaded it at the city hall to his grandfather, Mayor Anderson, yesterday.

Mr. John W. Anderson, a son of the mayor, had dropped in quietly Thursday to surprise his mother upon the occasion of her birthday, and accompanying him was the mayor's grandson. There are some people hereabout who regard Mayor Anderson as "some pumpkins," but they are unappreciative indeed compared to this youthful Wolverine. He knows something of things legal and official, his father being an attorney, and he was fully advised of the pre-eminence of the mayor's importance in the community. He had to be taken promptly to the city hall,
and for a few hours that day the great city of La Crosse was run pretty much in accord with the whims of a young autocrat from Michigan, who has ideas both peculiar and startling relative to the proper administration of a city.

NO BISHOPS ARE ELECTED TODAY

BALTIMORE, May 23.—Two ballots for the election of bishops were announced today at the general conference of Methodists, but there was no election. The leaders on the eight ballot were: W. S. Lewis, of Sioux City; W. A. Quale, Chicago;
Homer C. Stuntz, Philippine Islands;
Charles W. Smith, Pittsburgh. On
the ninth ballot the leaders were:
Quale, Lewis, Stuntz, Smith and Robert M. McIntyre, Los Angeles. The tenth ballot was taken at noon and will be announced Monday morning.
The conference today voted to adjourn sine die on June 1.

SEEK TO END ALL CHURCH LITIGATION

KANSAS CITY, May 24.—Plans to end the litigation caused by the union with the Cumberland church were discussed at today's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly.
The legal committee's report shows litigation has been pressed in eleven states. The committee recommended that the several synodical committees assume the responsibility for handling such cases, and that disputes be settled out of court where

BONAPARTE STORY IS DENIED IN TOTO

HE AND PRESIDENT AGREED ON NEW HAVEN ACTION

PROSECUTE THIS MONOPOLY

Action Is Begun to Break Up Most Absolute Railroad Trust in the United States

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—
Following the announcement of an action under the Sherman act against the monopoly of the New York, New Haven & Connecticut
railroad in New England, it was reported last night that there had been a clash between President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte, the latter threatening to resign unless permitted to proceed against the road.

President's Statement

The following statement was issued from the white house: "The story is a mere invention. There was no difference whatever between the president and the attorney general
over the New York, New Haven and Hartford suit. Yesterday morning attention was called from Massachusetts to the fact that the Massachusetts state court already had acted against the trolley line so far as Massachusetts was concerned, and the suggestion was accordingly made that action should be brought in some other state, inasmuch as the purpose of the suit had already been approved so far as Massachusetts was concerned. The president put the suggestion before the attorney general and asked him to bring it up at the next cabinet meeting, which was then but a half hour off. As a precautionary measure the newspapers that had the announcement on the beginning of the suit were asked to hold it up. The matter was then discussed in cabinet and it was decided that the action of the state court in Massachusetts would make no difference in the course of procedure by the government, and the newspapers were notified that the announcement of the bringing of the suit would stand. There was no division of opinion in the cabinet of the slightest friction or even discussion of any kind between any of the cabinet officers and the president or among the cabinet members themselves. The suit in question was determined upon some three months ago, and the only question yesterday was where it should be brought."

Positive denial of this was authorized today, and it is said there had not been any dissension whatever between the president and Bonaparte with respect to the suit. It is stated that the determination to sue the road was reached sometime ago, and that the president had no thought of suspending the proceedings, as has been alleged. There was only one legal question raised that as to whether the suit should be brought in Boston or Connecticut, and this was decided in favor of Boston.

The petition was filed yesterday
in Boston through United States District Attorney French to prevent the New Haven company from exercising control over the Boston &
Maine railroad, and to separate it from the extensive trolley system it has acquired.

Restraint of Trade Charged.
The petition charges the existence of a combination in restraint of trade and a monopoly within the meaning of sections 1 and 2 of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The New Haven company is alleged to have secured control over approximately 500 out of 600 miles of electric railway in Connecticut, 400 out of 500 in Rhode Island, and about 600 in Massachusetts, which roads, prior to such control, were engaged in active competition with the New Haven company.

ROOT MAY SUCCEED FULLER AS CHIEF JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT

CHIEF JUSTICE FULLER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—
There is considerable discussion in Washington over the possibility of a change in the near future in the chief justiceship of the United States supreme court. It has been frequently declared that this position is more honorable and more worthy of attainment than even the presidency of the republic. Its occupancy therefore, is a matter of supreme importance to the people of the nation.
There is no one who can speak authoritatively and say that Chief Justice Fuller intends to retire, and yet every circumstance would seem to point in this direction and it is highly probable that either the president or his successor will name a man to succeed the venerable Justice Fuller, whose career and whose record is long and honorable. It is declared that should the choice fall
to Roosevelt during his present term

DENEEN DELIVERS A RED HOT ROAST

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 23.—A hot reply to the charges contained in the report of the special house committee which investigated the state charitable institutions of Illinois, was sent to the legislature today in a special message by Gov.
Deneen. The charges are answered in detail and the inquiries are arranged in severe terms. The message brands the work of the house committee as a political plot. It says
in part:

"It is difficult to fittingly characterize the conduct of this committee. Professing itself to be a judicial body whose hearings were in the nature of court proceedings, they have nevertheless in the prosecution of this investigation abandoned every rule which the experience of civilized nations has shown to be essential to an honest judicial inquiry."

The governor discounts the report
on every state institution visited, going into special detail regarding the Hamlin case of the Pontiac reformatory. The governor says this death was clearly a case of suicide.

After being in session seventeen months the legislature adjourned sine die shortly after noon. The house refused to pass the mayor's bond bill, a test vote showing 58 for to 50 against it, with 77 needed to pass it.

HARDIN WINS A GREAT VICTORY

LEIPSIC, May 23.—The supreme court today decided that the trial of Editor Harden for "libeling" the "Knights of the Round Table" was unfair, and sent the case back for a rehearing.

The reversal of the last verdict is a heavy blow at the entire group of accused officials, and the court's judgment amounts to a crushing condemnation of the legal methods used at the trial ending in the editor's conviction. The general opinion was that the court was determined to make a scapegoat of him,
despite the fact that it might have to accept and act on the accusations
he made. The reversal is expected to greatly quiet the public, which has complained bitterly at the sacrifice of the popular journalist. No one doubts he will finally triumph over the powerful enemies he has made.

Harden made an eloquent speech
before the judges, describing how the court maneuvered to secure his conviction. He was released on bond pending a re-trial.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS POWER

Bosshard Declares No Committee
Can Dictate—Talk of Plans and Visit Site Today

MADISON, Wis., May 23.—(Special.)—State Supt. C. F. Carey went to La Crosse this morning to see about having location of county agricultural school changed from Onasaska to West Salem. Hundreds of letters received indicate that the school should be located nearer the central part of the county.

Supt. Carey arrived in La Crosse
last evening and left for Madison
this noon, attending a meeting of the "school board" appointed by the board of supervisors. The subject of a change in location was not officially discussed, although board members here knew of the effort
being made in behalf of West Salem.
Supt. Carey said that his business was to render advisory service to the board relative to ways and means,
and the most approved construction
in building the new college.

Change Not Contemplated.
Supt. Carey declined an invitation from the school board to accompany the members to Onalaska to view
the grounds today, declaring that there was no authority vested
in him to enable him to change or influence the matter of a location of the site. The board proceeded to view the grounds after his departure, some of the members not having seen them. The purpose of this visit was to so acquaint them with the site as to enable them to proceed intelligently with the building plans. Mr. Pettigill, chairman of the board, said that he talked with
Mr. Carey had been informal.

Board's Authority Complete.
One point raised at the meeting was relative to the question of whether the school board was to act independently, or jointly with the buildings committee of the county board,
and the former advice of District
Atty. Otto Bosshard that the school board alone had full authority was finally accepted.

In an interview this afternoon Mr.
Bosshard said there is no official or committee, or set of officials, with authority to change the site already decided upon by the full board of supervisors, and that this body alone
has authority in the matter.

Decision Is Accepted
The building committee of the board is composed of Assemblyman
V. S. Keppel, W. F. Baker, Burt
Nelson, Mike McHugh and L. F.
Aiken. It was appointed contrary to the advice of Mr. Bosshard to cooperate with the school board, composed of J. L. Pettigill, B. F. Olmstead and F. I. Bolles, and today during the presence of Supt. Carey the attorney repeated his advice that if the building committee acted it must be purely in an advisory capacity, as under the law the school board of the county has as complete authority as does the city board of education.

BIG INTER-STATE TRACK MEET ON

LARGE DELEGATIONS FROM SURROUNDING TERRITORY

WEATHER IS NOT THE BEST

But Unless Rain Sets in Late This Afternoon Athletic Event Will Be a Big Success

The long looked for interstate track and field meet is on this afternoon at the Interstate fair grounds. The incoming trains have been bringing in crowds of people from all over the state for the event and added to this the people of the city will make a good crowd at the grounds. The Black River Falls delegation arrived yesterday morning, and the Winona Sparta and Bangor delegations came in this morning. At 9 o'clock the game between the Winona and La Crosse high school baseball teams began at the league park. Roody was the only contestant who entered from Black River Falls, but he is entered in everything except the runs, so that he makes up for about half a dozen men. The track is in good condition and the officials look forward to some record breakings in most of the events.

The Dance Tonight.
The high school dance which will be given for the contestants and visitors who come for the meet comes off tonight at the Elks' hall. The hop will be an elaborate affair and it is hoped it will be well attended. This dance as well as the one before it will be under the rules made by the parents and teachers' association. Kreutz's orchestra will furnish the music. The hall has been beautifully decorated with flags and banners of the different schools and everything is in readiness for the expected crowd.

Lincoln-Douglas Closes.
The Lincoln-Douglas Debating society held its last regular meeting for this semester. At the next business meeting new officers will be elected and installed. The question for debate last night was, "Resolved, that the 15th amendment was a mistake." The society had been divided into two parts, one taking the affirmative and the other the negative. It was agreed that the side which lost two out of three debates was to treat the winning division to a banquet and the affirmative won last night, so they will eat at the negatives' expense.

Wendell Phillips Society.
The Wendell Phillips Debating society did not hold a meeting last night, and the members were invited to attend the Lincoln-Douglas debate. The two societies are preparing to give a joint banquet on the 19th of June at the Congregational church parlors and over a hundred plates have already been pledged. According to the custom some of the prominent men of the city will be called upon to speak, and also some of the members of the two societies will have to say a few words. Both societies have just completed another successful year in the line of work and both are well financially as they have met with success in all of their ventures.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble," by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "rising" or "rising" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 23.—(Special.)—In the fourth inning, by a terrific batting rally the visitors scouted in five runs and gained a lead the local players were unable to overcome although in the ninth inning, Jones, the La Crosse little pitcher, went up in the air for a minute and allowed one run but steadied down again before the predicament became disastrous.

Parker, a new find of Manager Lynch, opened the game and was steady until the fourth inning but after passing a man he faded before the Pinks batters until they had secured a lead of five. Superior team work by Lynch's men saved the inning from becoming further disastrous. Bewalda went in after the fourth inning and let the visitors down without a hit or run. He was given good support and held the batters at his mercy. Jones for the vis-

the Summit factory is moonshine. La Crosse needs that factory.

WORTH LOOKING INTO.

The Tribune knows little of automobile tires beyond the embarrassing fact that they are sure to be punctured or explode about once in so often. However, Mr. Fry knows a thing or two about tires, and he has invented one that cannot be punctured, or explode. He believes it is a perfect substitute for the pneumatic tire, with the additional advantages of cheapness, greater durability and a nicer adjustability.

Mr. Fry's invention, a description of which appeared in this paper last night, may not be worth anything. For all we know it may have defects rendering it entirely worthless. However, to the novice it does not look like a failure, and Mr. Fry believes and has convinced experts, that it is a practical steel tire. One big Michigan firm is so convinced of this that, he says, it has offered him $50,000 spot cash for the patent.

If Mr. Fry has what he believes he has, he has solved the biggest automobile problem of the decade. If he has it, it will be in use in every auto factory in the world in a short time. It will revolutionize the tire business, if it is what he thinks it is.

Mr. Fry wants to have this tire manufactured in La Crosse, and we suggest it is worth exploiting. If he is not mistaken, the invention will be the biggest thing offered the public in years. That means an immense factory and great profits somewhere. Why not in La Crosse? Would it not be wise for capitalists here to investigate? If it is not what it is cracked up to be, no harm will have been done by looking into it. If it is, would it not be a shame to let it get away from La Crosse merely because capital here was not attracted to it?

ADIEU! FIGHTING BOB.

There are critics who say the cruise of the American battleships from Hampton Roads to San Francisco has been idle, useless and extravagant. They are critics, however, by profession, who carry their complaints as a side line to make traveling expenses on. Their lay is answered by a joyous chorus of acclaim from eighty million of Yankee patriots who have individually and separately acquired each a new measure of personal glory and satisfaction from the splendid spectacle which Uncle Sam has laid in two great oceans for the wonderment of a respectful world. Not the least that can be said is that the cruise has provided a triumphant farewell to the American navy for one of its most magnificent seamen, Robley D. Evans, beloved of every man who paces the deck of an American battleship, respected at every hearthstone which enjoys the sublime protection throughout the world wherever bravery is honored and manhood prized.

You have left the fleet, Bob, but you cannot leave our hearts. You have hauled down your pennant from the flagship, but there is not a jackie on either ocean who does not still fly your colors at his heart's pinnacle. You are through with active duty in the nation's cause, but you are not through with the adoration of a people. There is an immortal roll of fame, Bob, which is burned in letters of gold and illumined with a blaze of glory. At its head shines forth the name of brave Paul Jones. From its brilliancy shines forth the eternal emblem of a Perry—"Don't give up the ship, boys." It records the brilliant bravery of a Farragut, lashed to a mast where cover was impossible. There stands the name of Dewey, idol of our modern years. And there also the angels of the nation must inscribe your fame. Let it be written that Robley Evans was best known and best beloved as "Fighting Bob"—and the greatest of encomiums has been spread. The heritage of the American people is its history. The brightest stars in its history are its men.

Admiral Evans took his fleet of battleships around a course of 13,000 miles. His fleet has been honored and received by four presidents of four republics: Roosevelt at Hampton Roads; Penna in Brazil; Monte at Valparaiso; Pardo in Peru.

It is good news in La Crosse that all the talk about the removal of

The journey has attached the southern continent to its northern ally by a cord of admiration and good fellowship. Critics may criticize but their pessimism is all in vain. The American people see a new significance in their flag and a new strength for their nation out of Admiral Evans' cruise.

They echo the sentiments of Longfellow when he penned those splendid lines—"Thou, too, Sail on, O, Ship of State." "Sail on," say they, to their navy and its men, "Sail on to the eternal glory and eternal credit of the United States of America, the greatest power in all the story of the ancient or the modern world!"—N. A. P. S.

... "to bring Mme. Galski or any singer or musician of her note to La Crosse at $1,000 is putting a premium on egotism and setting us all down for 'easy marks'."

There are few newspaper men who would let any incentive impel them to indulge in criticism of a manager by whose courtesy, doubtless, he had occupied an advantageous seat on a "comp," but it is not this feature of the above caddish utterance by a local morning paper that has made it the subject of unfriendly comment all during the week. One of the provinces of a good newspaper is to promote elevating influences, and it was hardly expected that one whose fastidiousness had inspired a recent slur upon all those unfortunates who eat at a certain "third street beany"—a really first class short order house, by the way—would deliberately "knock" so worthy an enterprise as the bringing to La Crosse, at great expense, of a singer of international note. Nor was the quotation of the price at "$2.50 a throw" exactly honest, for seats were on sale at $2.50, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, .75 and .50.

It was indeed a treat to those who appreciate the efforts of great musical genius to be able to enjoy the singing of Galski, and as no one was compelled to attend, it might have been considered in better form for persons lacking the capacity to understand and appreciate so excellent a program to stay away and refrain from adverse comment of the sort evidencing as bad manners as it does lack of a mind receptive to the refined in art.

If business entered in any way into Mr. Noelke's enterprise in bringing Mme. Galski to La Crosse, it was indirectly and only to the extent that her performance might advertise his house. His most daring hope was to break even, and when he fell about $30 short on his guarantee, beside the money paid the newspapers for advertising, he was content. It was a courageous undertaking, and one which among the people who find pleasure in the masters of art, literature and music, must have awakened genuine admiration. However, Mr. Noelke probably realizes that neither the civil statutes nor the laws of polite society can operate to render the citizen who minds his own business immune from the idle language and uncouth facetiousness of egotists who think little and talk much.

Complaint is made in Washington that the middle west "defeated the ship subsidy." The middle west blushing acknowledgement of the compliment.

Evidence in the Snell case suggests that the city of Clinton was at fault in not having him "limited" to a "district."

FASHION HINTS

By MAY MANTON

5995 Pointed Yoke Drawers, 22 to 32 waist.

Drawers that are finished with a pointed yoke at the upper edge are apt to be exceedingly comfortable to the wearer and many women prefer them to every other sort. Those illustrated include that feature and are quite simple while they can be finished with tucks and with frills of the material as illustrated or with frills of embroidery or of lace. They are shapely and there is only slight fullness over the hips while they are quite wide enough for comfort.

The drawers consist of two leg portions which are designed to be arranged in narrow tucks at their lower edges and are finished with frills three inches in width. They are gathered at the upper edge and joined to the yoke.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 2 yards 36 in. wide, 2 1/2 yards each of insertion, and edging.

The pattern 5995 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 in. waist measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

Her Wish Was Gratified

An ambitious woman once wrote to Abraham Lincoln asking for a sentiment and his autograph. The president answered promptly:

"Dear Madam: When you write to a stranger, asking the favor of a letter, always inclose a postage stamp. There's the sentiment."

"Here's the autograph: 'A. LINCOLN.'—Washington Post.

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

A Coincidence
"Waiter!" called Jones, in such tones of suppressed triumph that we all looked up as he majestically summoned Robert. Long had Jones entertained his own opinions as to the economical practices of our restaurant. Were those sceptical opinions confirmed? "Waiter," said he, with crushing impressiveness, "just look here, if you please. Do you see that button, waiter, in this cabinet pudding? That is mine. I hid it yesterday in the end of my roll—in the end of my roll, waiter." And Jones' glance proudly gathered in—so to speak—the admiration our looks expressed at such a successful exposure of mean conduct. But Robert was equal to the occasion. Perfectly unflushed, very singular, indeed sir. To think, now, you should just happen to get that very button again, after all, sir!"—Tit-Bits.

THE PAUPER OF PARK LANE

By William Le Queux

"Then why is he pressing me to go out to Constantinople?" Max asked. Sam Statham shrugged his shoulders, indicative of ignorance.

"Perhaps he thinks you will plank down money?" he suggested.

"No. He wants nothing until I myself am satisfied with the bona fides of the business."

"Bluff on his part, most likely. He's a pastmaster of the art."

"Then you know him?"

"Sufficiently well to have nothing to do with him."

"Then that accounts for his refusal to allow me to consult you," said Barclay. "I see the reason now."

"Of course, act just as you think fit. Only recollect that what I've told you is bed-rock fact. The man who calls himself Adam is a person to be avoided."

"Have you had dealings with him?"

"Once—and they had a very unpleasant result."

Max reflected upon certain remarks and criticisms which the Frenchman had uttered concerning Statham and his financial methods. In the light of what he now knew, he saw that the two men were enemies. It seemed as though the old man wished to tell him something, and yet was hesitating.

"Have you put any money into the scheme?" the millionaire asked.

"Not yet."

"Then don't. Tell him to take it somewhere else. Better still, tell him to bring it to me. You need not, however, say that it is I who warned you. Leave him in the dark in that direction. He's a clever fellow—extraordinarily clever. Who is with him now?"

"Well, he has a friend named Lyle—a mining engineer."

"Leonard Lyle—a hunchback?" asked Statham quickly.

"Yes."

The millionaire's countenance went a trifle paler and about the corners of his thin lips was a hard expression. To him, the seriousness of the conspiracy was only too apparent.

Those two men intended that he should be driven to take his own life—to die an ignominious death.

"You've spoken to this man Lyle?" he asked in as steady a voice as he could.

"Once or twice. He seems to possess a very intimate knowledge of Serbia, Bulgaria, and European Turkey. Is he an adventurer like Adam?"

"Not exactly," was the rather ambiguous reply. "But his association with Adam shows plainly that fraud is intended."

"But why does he want me to go post-haste out to Turkey?" queried Max, who had risen from his chair in the excitement of this sudden revelation which caused his brilliant scheme to vanish into thin air.

"To induce confidence, I expect. He would have introduced you to some men wearing fezes, and declared them to be Pashas high in favour at the Yildiz Kiosk. Then before you left Constantinople he would have held you to your bargain to put money into the thing. Oh! never fear, you would have fallen a victim in one way or another. So it's best that you should know the character of the two men with whom you are dealing. Take my advice; treat them with caution, but refuse to stir from London. They will, no doubt, use every persuasion to induce you to go, but your best course is to hear all their arguments, watch the gradual development of the scheme, and inform me of it. Will you do it?"

"Will my information assist you in any way, Mr. Statham?"

"Yes, it will—very materially," the old man answered. "I have revealed to you the truth, and I ask you, in return, to render me this little assistance. What I desire to know is their movements daily, and how they intend to act."

"Towards whom?"

"Towards myself."

"Then they are associated against you, you believe?"

"I suspect them to be," the old man replied. "I know them to be my enemies. They are, like thousands of other men, jealous of my success, and believe they have a grievance against me—one that is entirely unfounded."

"And if I do this will you assist me to obtain knowledge of the reason why Marlon Rolfe has been dismissed?" asked Max eagerly.

The old man hesitated, but for a second. It was easy enough to give him a letter to Cunningham, and afterwards to telephone to Oxford street instructions to the head of the firm to refuse a reply.

So, consenting, he took a sheet of note-paper, and scribbled a few lines of request to Mr. Cunningham, which he handed to Max, saying:

"There, I hope that will have the desired effect, Mr. Barclay. On your part, remember, you will keep in with Adam and Lyle, and give me all the information you can gather. I know how to repay a friendly service rendered to me, as you are, no doubt, well aware. You will be welcome here at any hour. I shall tell Levi to admit you."

"That's a bargain," the younger man asserted. "When will Rolfe return?"

"Tomorrow, or next day, he's in Paris. Shall I tell him you wish to see him?"

"Please."

Restful Sleep Restored

MRS. P. R. SOUTHARD.

Mrs. P. R. Southard, of Woodmere, L. I., who was a nervous wreck, and could neither eat nor sleep, was completely restored to health by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

In a recent interview Mrs. Southard said:—"I can certainly say your tonic-stimulant, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, has been a great benefit to me. I was weak, nervous, could not sleep and was troubled with loss of appetite.

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, was recommended to me by friends. I took it, and the result is that I am stronger and better in every way, can sleep and my appetite is much improved.

"I write you this, as I thought it was my duty to let you know what your great medicinal Malt Whiskey has done for me.

Thousands of cases like that of Mrs. Southard have been cured during the past fifty years, since Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was discovered.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It cures nervousness, typhoid, malaria, every form of stomach trouble, diseases of the throat and lungs, and all run-down and weakened conditions of the body, brain and nerves. It is prescribed by doctors and is recognized as the world's greatest family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Dr. R. Curran, Consulting Physician, for an illustrated medical booklet and free advice. STORM DAMAGE AT VIROQUA, WIS.

VIROQUA, Wis., May 23.—The wind storm of Thursday did considerable damage to the L. C. Boyle grain warehouse at the M. & St. P. depot, and also moved the tobacco shed of Martin Root, west of the city, from its foundation. The fall of rain about noon was .47 and another .47 fell between six and nine o'clock, making practically a fall of .94 in about three hours, according to the local station of the weather bureau. The telephones have been out of order as the result of the strong wind.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Hockabout of Lenox, Iowa, arrived at Viroqua on Friday for a visit with their many relatives in this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Hockabout were formerly farmers near Liberty Pole and left here forty-six years ago.

Jos. Omundson was a business visitor at Norwalk on Friday.

William Selbach drove over from Rockton on Friday on business matters.

Miss Mary Raynor resigned her position as third grade teacher in the Viroqua city schools and contemplates going to Oklahoma to continue her professional work.

Father O'Reilly was up from Rising Sun this week, looking after the work on the new Catholic church.

Riley Newman was over from Hillsboro on a business errand on Friday.

W. S. Proctor opens his refreshment parlors in the basement of the First National bank building on Saturday. Music by the orchestra in the evening from 8 until 11.

A union service will be held at the Congregational church Sunday morning and the memorial sermon delivered by Rev. Chas. Butters. The Grand Army veterans, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Spanish American War veterans will attend.

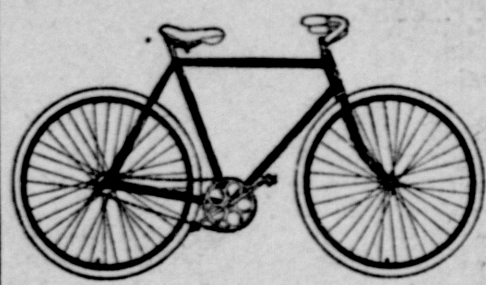

THREE NEW STREET CARS ARRIVE

Three new cars for the La Crosse City Railway company arrived today. The cars were made by the American Car company of St. Louis and are modern. They are of the convertible variety and can be opened so as to resemble an open car, but when the weather is disagreeable the cars can be closed. They will be ready for use in about a week and the company expects to run them on the cemetery and the eastern lines. It is expected that these cars will facilitate the service a great deal.

RECRUIT SAYS HE IS WELL PLEASED

Sergeant Robert Shaw of the local recruiting office has received a postal card from Henry A. Sharp, who was enlisted at the local station some time ago and is now located with the Sixth infantry band at Ft. Benjamin Harrison at Helena, Mont. Mr. Chapp writes that he is well pleased with his new work and that the country is far superior to that of this city.

PATTEN CARNIVAL COMES JULY 6TH

AMUSEMENT ASS'N. MAKES ARRANGEMENTS FOR SHOWS

FREE ATTRACTIONS INCLUDED

Big Organization Will Spend a Week on the North Side Streets During the Coming Summer

The North Side Amusement association has accepted the proposition of the Patten Carnival company of Minneapolis represented here by H. R. Moore, to open their carnival here the week commencing July 6.

The Patten company is considered a large and reliable organization and Mr. Moore who has been in the circus business for 35 years says that there will be no gambling or immoral shows and that the attractions are strictly first class.

The following list of the shows owned by the company which will be the attractions for the north side, as described in the carnival company's literature:

Free Attractions
The Famous National Drum Corps of America. This great honor and national title as bestowed upon this drum corps at the national encampment of the G. A. R. at Columbus, O., by Commander-in-Chief Hon John P. Rea, in 1882.

Hi Henry, the high diver. America's sensational and death defying highest high diver, leaping head foremost from the extreme top of a lofty tower into a life saving net. A spectacle before which all others pale into insignificance.

Baldwood, a balloon star and parachute jumper, a thrilling act.

Wells and Sells, the real laugh-makers, in "A Trick Laundry." Funniest open air act ever witnessed.

Joe and Toby, the celebrated acrobats. None better.

Shows
Herrick the Hermit, the first time in history a hermit has been induced to go on exhibition. The strange man with his waltzing mice.

Klein's high class moving picture shows.

Foster's Old Plantation minstrels. A Crazy House, the greatest fun-maker.

Oromo, the latest illusion. Razzle-Dazzle, the original have-a-ride.

As water feeds flowers, satin skin cream nourishes the skin to health. See.

NORTH SIDE BRIEFS.

Miss Alice Alleman of 1329 Charles street entertained the Christian Endeavor of the North Presbyterian church last evening.

LIGHTNING NUMBS YOUNG GIRL'S ARM

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF MISS URZLE ZOELLER

While North Side Family Sits at Supper Table Brilliant Flash Plays Across the Room

While eight members of the family of Mrs. A. Zoeller, 830 Wall street, were at the supper table on Thursday evening, during the storm, lightning entered the house over the telephone wires and a flash of the fluid played across the table and room startling the diners, and seriously shocking 14-year-old Urzle Zoeller, daughter of Mrs. Zoeller.

The little girl was sitting nearest to, and almost directly under the telephone, when the lightning entered on the wires, and her left arm has since been benumbed. Today the feeling is returning to the arm, which the little lady says feels as though it had been burned.

No serious results are anticipated, but the escape is regarded as a miraculous one by the family. No other members were shocked, although all were startled considerably by the shock.

CITY NEWS

SAENGERFEST COLLECTION.—The Saengerfest association is collecting 50 per cent of the guarantee fund subscribed by citizens, a clause in the agreement having made provision that 50 per cent could be collected by April if needed.

ORDERS AUTO.—Dr. F. C. Suiter has ordered a runabout. He was accompanied to Chicago to make the purchase by Dr. F. R. Weston. Dr. Weston, acting in the capacity of agent, secured a touring car while with Dr. Suiter for a Winona customer. The touring car for the Winonan reached the city, but Dr. Suiter's runabout is not yet here.

WOODMAN PICNIC.—The Modern Woodman of Bangor will hold a big picnic in that village June 10th and 11th.

ELKS INITIATE.—The B. P. O. Elks Thursday evening initiated candidates and held a business meeting.

MACKENZIE RETIRES.—On Saturday General A. MacKenzie, the veteran chief of engineers in the United States army, will have reached the age limit and will retire from service. He is well known on the upper river and in fact from the headwaters to the gulf. He has been in La Crosse on several occasions as the guest of Capt. W. A. Thompson.

NOT AT GRAND RAPIDS.—After a little more scrutinizing of the picture of Miss Rose Wilson, Judge Conway of Grand Rapids has discovered that the fair maiden who visited him was not the one the Viroqua authorities are after.

TRY CASE WITH 11 JURORS.—The case of Atkinson against the State bank is being tried with but 11 jurors. Frank Pierce of the north side being ill. The attorneys on both sides agreed to try the case with 11 men.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.—A marriage license has been granted to Otto W. Marquardt and Miss Ada L. Thrun, both of this city.

HAS DIPHTHERIA.—Roy Davis, 1235 Madison street, who returned home from Hazelhurst, Ill., supposed to be suffering with tonsillitis, is found to be dangerously ill with diphtheria.

REPAIR FOUNTAIN.—The board of public works has a crew of men at work today repairing the drinking fountain at Third and Main streets. For the past month the fountain at that corner has been out of order and it was found that the pipes were leaking and the entire number of pipes had to be replaced with new ones.

LEASE BUILDING.—The Campbell News agency has rented the store building in the Beck block, between Sixth and Seventh street on Main, and will move into it some time next week. They have taken a three year lease on the building.

"HAM TREE" STILL A HARDY ANNUAL

An exchange comments as follows on "The Ham Tree," which plays here soon:

With the same tuneful music, the same screaming comedy and many of the old familiar faces in the cast and chorus, McIntyre & Heath came back to the Moore theatre last night in their annual production of The Ham Tree, the vehicle that has served them as a fun maker for many seasons.

There was no diminution in the screaming laughter of the audience over the dialogue work of James McIntyre as Alexander Hambleton and T. K. Heath as Henry Jones. From their first appearance on the stage until they reached the climax of fun as the tie-walking minstrels in the third act, they kept the audience in roars of merriment by comedy that seemingly lacked nothing of spontaneity, for all of the years it has served the two black-face artists for drawing much mirth and pecuniary returns from large houses all over the country.

There are some changes in the bill, which, by the way, bears the headline announcement that this is the farewell tour of The Ham Tree. Frank O'Brien, as Sherlock Baffles, Phil W. Smith, as Ernest Everheart, and Arthur Barry, as Lord Spotcash, suffered no adverse criticism as compared with the players who filled those parts last year. O'Brien's comedy work was good; Smith made a hit in his singing of "Drummers Have Sweethearts in Every Town," and Barry made good as the blase English peer, his accent being especially good.

The rest of the cast was the same as last year and did the same good work. Miss Towler, as Mrs. Nickelbacker, was as handsome and stately as ever and wore several handsome gowns that enhanced her Junoesque beauty. Belle Gold is back again as Desdemona, and in make-up and character work did the same clever work as marked her part a year ago. Carolyn Gordon was attractive as Tessie Nickelbacker, and a large and attractive chorus sang and danced with a dash and vim that made the ensemble numbers go with a snap that was gratifying. Especially likeable was the dancing work of the women of the chorus, one tall girl on the right end being a markedly lithe and graceful high kicker.

The familiar music was sung well and the same excellent stage business characterized the performance as was evident on the first visit of The Ham Tree. The play will be here all the week, with matinees on Thursday and Saturday.

PROF. ANDERSCH IS FEST BARITONE

SAENGERFEST ASSOCIATION
MAKES SELECTION

PRESS COMMITTEE MEETING

Will Be Held This Afternoon, and Next Saturday President Calls
Meeting of Bund's Officers

The music committee of the Saengerfest association at a session Friday evening selected Prof. Andersch of Rock Island as the baritone for the festival to be held here in July. The two candidates in the field were Prof. Andersch and Mr. U. S. Kerr, and the committee did not come to an agreement until Friday evening. Prof. Andersch has been well recommended and considering the large aggregation from the vicinity of his home the committee decided to engage him. He has just completed a two years' tour through Europe and is a graduate, with honors, from the Vienna Conservatory of Music, which is considered one of the best in the country.

A meeting has been called of the press committee for 2 o'clock this afternoon at the new offices of Secretary Utermoehl in the Second ward school building, and this evening the general committee of the Saengerfest association will hold a meeting and the affairs of the fest will be taken up. Secretary Utermoehl has received a letter from Stanley, Wis., asking for accommodations at the fest. While the Stanley organization is not a member of the Saengerbund they will appear at the Saengerfest. Stanley will be represented by a quartet, which is well known, having received honorable mention as to their ability.

Meet Saturday.
President Theo. G. Behrens of Chicago, president of the Bund, has called a meeting of the Bund to be held in this city next Saturday, when details of the Saengerfest will be gone over. The officers of the Bund are:

President—Theo. G. Behrens of Chicago.
Vice president—Otto W. Rohland of Chicago.
Secretary—G. H. J. Kiech of Milwaukee.
Treasurer—E. O. Knez of Madison.
Conductor—Theo. Kelbe of Milwaukee.
Librarian—John G. A. Wunder of Davenport.

BADGER DELEGATION KILLS SUBSIDY BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—Wisconsin's mixed delegation of democrats and republican insurgents celebrated the reappearance of Senator La Follette on the floor of the senate by becoming the determining factors in the defeat of the ship subsidy proposition on the floor of the house yesterday.

So close was the vote on the conference report on the postal appropriation bill that if Wisconsin had voted its republicans as other states did, the conference report would have been approved and ship subsidy, under the guise of promoting the mail service, would have been a fact.

As it was, every republican in the house from Wisconsin, with one exception, voted against the conference report. The one exception was J. J. Jenkins, who voted with the organization in favor of approving the report.

The Wisconsin people were proud of their record and anxious that they should get all the credit—and blame if any attaches—for the fact that the one state, by its republican defection, had killed this measure. There was much felicitation over the opportunity that had been given the Wisconsin people to make themselves felt.

MILWAUKEE ROAD TO MAKE $60,000 CHANGE

"Pending the working out of the plan two extra watchmen, one day and one night, will be put on at once and maintained jointly by the railway company and the street railway company."

The change means, ultimately, a new passenger depot for the north side. It is understood while this may not be taken up at once, there is much favor among the railroad officials toward having a new passenger depot at Caledonia street, instead of at the present Mill street site, as more convenient to citizens and less inconvenient to the railroad company. This, however, will be a later consideration.

Will Cost $60,000

The improvement as planned will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000 according to the estimates, and it may be seen from this figure the extent of the alterations to be made by the road.

The company must come before the council in quest of permission to make the change, but this is merely a minor consideration, it is understood, as the plan as outlined meets with the entire approval of the aldermen to whom it has been outlined.

Big Thing for La Crosse

The improvement is a mighty big thing for the city, and especially for the north side, as it will eliminate the possibility of a Mill street viaduct which is not desired by the north side, and will also eliminate any possibility of consummation of the plan to run street cars on Rose street. Besides the danger at the Mill street crossing, it will practically do away with the danger at all north side crossings, which heretofore has been great.

President B. E. Edwards of the La Crosse City Railway company, who also attended the meeting conferred with the railroad officials and they agreed to jointly provide a flagman at the Mill street crossing until the improvement has been made. The flagman will have nothing to do with the gates and will simply take care of the cars crossing the tracks.

The railroad committee of the council has been active in pursuit of a solution to the Mill street crossing matter, and was planning a campaign for the safety of citizens and among other things planned was double acting gates, which, when the street gates were open, would bar the crossing to the railroad's rolling stock. Thus an accident would be impossible without smashing the gates, and in this event there would be an explanation of blame demanded.

Other meetings and conferences are expected to follow in quick succession, as soon as the plan is officially approved by the road officials at headquarters and if the plans work out as expected construction work on the new yards will be started at once, and they will be completed this summer.

MERCHANTS OPEN MEMORIAL MORNING

CLOSE STORES FROM 2 UNTIL 6 O'CLOCK

ALL DAY PLAN IS DROPPED

J. S. Arenz, Acting for Association, Finds Some Oppose Losing All of Next Saturday

The La Crosse merchants have decided to adhere to their original decision to remain open on Memorial day, next Saturday, excepting from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m., when they will be closed.

J. S. Arenz, the well known shoe man, was authorized at the last meeting of the Merchants' association to interview the merchants on a plan to remain open until 9:30 Friday evening, May 29, and then to close for all day Saturday. Mr. Arenz says he found many of the merchants in favor of this plan, but that several opposed it, and as a result he decided it could not be accomplished without friction, and the scheme was abandoned.

The afternoon closing will give clerks an opportunity to visit the cemeteries in the afternoon or to spend the four hours at the parks or in their recreation.

At the Bijou tonight and tomorrow last chance to see 5 large vaudeville acts.

LAX NATIONAL BANK BESTS THE BATAVIAN IN CLOSE CONTEST

The colors of the La Crosse National Bank (the long green) are today waving triumphantly, while those of the Batavian National Bank (old gold) are trailing in the fifth (y lucre) as the result of a baseball game played at League park yesterday afternoon.

The Nationals won by a score of 12 to 11, the winning run being scored in the ninth inning after the Batavians had tied the score after a struggle. The line-up was as follows:

National Bank—Jos. Bartl, c; L. Asplin, p; T. Ruggles, 1b; Otto Munz, 2b; Rossiter, 3b; C. Bonnwalle, ss; Harrington, rf; Thwing, lf; Dockendorf, cf.

Batteries—Batavian, Knothe, Anderson, Spillum; Nationals, Asplin, Capellan, ss; C. Johnson, rf; A. Erickson, lf; F. A. Miller, c.

Game called at 4:15. Time 2 hrs.

Alderman Bartl was something sensational as a catcher, pegging in true Eleventh ward style. For the Batavians Knothe was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning, being succeeded by Anderson, who held the Nationals level. "Dutch" Candrian was a star spectacle in his great windmill act when at bat, and Munz handled the stick with a back hand flip that would have been a terror to black bass. In the fourth inning the game was called temporarily to awake Mascott Clark, whose snoring interfered with the decisions of the umpire.

There was nothing in the game to indicate a decided superiority of either team, the victory by one score having come at the climax of a heart breaking finish in which the score was tied, and it is said to be the intention of the losers to challenge for a return game.

PYTHIANS PROPOSE OBSERVING MAY 30

At the meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge next Tuesday evening the matter of changing the Pythian Memorial day to May 30 will be taken up for the second time and definite action taken. C. E. Hamilton brought up the changing of the memorial day in view of the fact that May 30 is the national holiday and Decoration day. Formerly the Pythian Memorial day was celebrated during the second week in June, but as the matter is being received favorably among the members it is probable that the date will be changed.

LA CROSSE EASILY WINS BALL GAME

FINAL SCORE 11 TO 1 IN GAME WITH WINONA

BATTING STREAK IN SEVENTH

Visitors Fan Air and Fail to Connect With the Ball at Critical Times

The Winona-La Crosse high school baseball game this morning proved a walkaway for the local boys. Rynning toed the slab for the La Crosse boys and let the visitors off with three hits and one score. Nissen pitched for the Winona aggregation but was battered all over the lot. The visitors opened the game with no hits and no runs. La Crosse high school lead off with two safe hits and one run by Catcher Novak. The story of the game from the visitors' point of view was the same throughout the rest of the game for they went out in quick order except in the sixth inning, when Captain Sweazy ran in a score and a two-base hit by Huntington. The La Crosse boys struck a batting streak in the seventh and ran in three scores and secured four safe hits. A. Dahlgren made the only two-base hits for La Crosse.

The lineup:
La Crosse High School—Frank Novak, c; Rynning, p; Holbrook, 1b; Gage, 2b; Walker, 3b; Schaldach, ss; A. Dahlgren, lf; Dickens, cf; M. Novak, rf.

Winona High School—Livingston, c; Nissen, p; Miller, 1b; Huntington, 2b; Kowaleski, 3b; Volmar, ss; Harkness, lf; Sweazy, cf; Gushdecker, rf.

Summary—Time of game—1:05. Umpire—Johnson. First base on balls—Off Nissen, 2; off Rynning, 2. Struck out—By Nissen, 3; by Rynning, 9. Double plays—Rynning to Holbrook. Two base hits—Dahlgren, Dickens and Huntington. Three-base hits—Dahlgren and Dickens. Sacrifice hit—Schaldach. Final score, 11 to 1. Attendance—65.

capital stock of the Boston & Maine railroad it is said to have secured practical control over that railroad, and in obtaining the electric lines and this control of the Boston & Maine, it is declared to have established a virtual monopoly of all of the land transportation facilities in the New England states.

The Boston & Albany railroad is practically the only line of any consequence in the New England states, except Vermont, not now under the control in some form of the New Haven company.

Becomes a Political Scandal.
The petition relates the history of these various acquisitions and relates how the "New Haven company" has persistently pursued the policy of suppressing all competition with it.

The New England railroad situation long has been a political scandal that has attracted attention throughout the United States. The people of New England are practically dominated by the New Haven railroad and candidates for office have been defeated for daring to espouse the cause of the people against the monopoly, which has been the leading political issue in state elections.

MRS. SOPHIA SEES SUCCUMBS TODAY

Mrs. Sophia Sees died at 9:15 this morning at her home at 322 South Fourth street from old age. The deceased was 69 years of age and a widow of J. J. Sees. She leaves four daughters, Mrs. Emma Weber, Mrs. Sophia Stenseng, Mrs. Patrick Bedding and Miss Louise N. Sees; and one son, Harry Sees, to mourn her death.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence Rev. Faville officiating. The interment will be made in the Oak Grove cemetery, with Miller Bros. in charge.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

The week has contained many pleasant social functions and although rain has predominated through the week, the two or three fine days saw many picnics laden with baskets, bound for the different parks. On Tuesday the Pastor's class of the First M. E. church, enjoyed a picnic at Myrick park, nearly 100 people being seated at the bountiful supper.

Affairs for prospective brides are numerous, and these delightful affairs are productive of much pleasure to both hostess and guests.

The Ladies' societies in most of the churches have had their last business meetings of the year, and vacation time is in the air.

Lovers of the best drama are looking eagerly forward to Mrs. Leslie Carter's appearance on Tuesday evening in "Du Barry." This will be the last attraction of any prominence for the season, and a retrospective glance at the dramatic and musical offerings which have come to La Crosse this year shows an imposing list of artists and the opportunity of hearing some of the greatest stars in the profession.

CHAPTER MEETING

The West Avenue Chapter, Brotherhood of St. Paul, held their regular meeting Thursday evening. The topic of the evening discussion was upon the question "Resolved, that the saloon keeper should have a square deal." Without entering into the merits of the license system but with reference to local conditions the consensus of opinion of the chapter was that the saloon keeper does not have a square deal in social equality and that he has more than a square deal in special privileges, upon the following grounds:

The saloon business being as respectable as that of the brewer who controls it or of the people who vote to license it, a square deal requires that the saloon keeper should not bear all of the approbrium of the traffic but rather have his place in the same class, to rise or fall together.

The fundamental principle of government being respect of law, else anarchy ensue; no person should have special privileges to break law such as that possessed by the saloon keeper by virtue of non-enforcement. Fairness to the saloon keeper demands that his responsibility in this be no greater than that of officers of administration whose oath of office proclaims their business to enforce law.

Personal liberty and personal rights are only possible under the general law, equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

MRS. J. S. COLMAN ENTERTAINS FOR MISS LULU PAGE

A very pleasant pre-nuptial affair in the shape of a parcel shower was given for Miss Lulu Page last evening, by Mrs. J. S. Colman, at her residence, 1319 State street. A gathering of twenty-seven of the young friends of the bride-elect, helped to make the occasion very enjoyable, and an informal program was a pleasant feature of the evening. Refreshments were served about 9:30. Among many other pretty gifts a handsome Chinese centerpiece was presented last evening to Miss Page, whose wedding will take place the middle of June.

MRS. HEYERDAHL ENTERTAINS FOR MISS CATHERINE KINNISON

A delightful 5 o'clock tea and bridal shower was given in honor of Miss Catherine Kinnison, a June bride, yesterday afternoon, by Mrs. Alex Heyerdahl and Mrs. Elizabeth Irish, at the residence of the former, 302 North Eighth street. The guests were seated at two handsomely appointed tables, the color scheme of which was green and white. The chandeliers were draped in masses of green, and dainty streamers of narrow satin ribbon radiated from the center of the chandelier to each place. A fragrant bouquet of lilies of the valley graced the bride's table, and at each place lay a dainty spray of the same flowers. At the end of a white satin streamer at the guest of honor's place lay a handsome set of solid silver tea spoons. The name cards at each place were hand painted and the work of Miss McNair.

A cut glass vase containing red carnations was the attractive centerpiece on the second table. The guests were principally among the teachers with which the bride has been associated for the past three years. The following were present: Misses McNair, Doherty, Rollins, Marsh, Hanscome, Binzel, Meyers, Bigham, Hektoen, Collins, Micklejohn, Sadie McCann, J. McCann, Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. James W. Irish and Miss Kinnison. Assisting the hostess about the rooms and in serving were Mrs. Fred Phillips, Mrs. Bert Steadwell, Mrs. James Kerr, Mrs. Joe Calloway, and Mrs. Carl Ogden.

MAY PARTY LAST NIGHT

A GREAT SUCCESS
The May party which was participated in last evening by the young women and the new members of the Y. W. C. A. was well attended and greatly enjoyed. A delightful informal program was rendered, and the winding of the May pole with its gay ribbons, pretty girls and inspiring music, had to be repeated at the request of the audience.

Miss Hogan, the president, made a few congratulatory remarks upon the success of the campaign, and pinned a pansy upon each member as they came forward to the roll call. After the formalities of the evening, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

CAWLEY CONCERT

A good sized and very enthusiastic audience greeted Prof. Uruquhart Cawley and his assisting artists at their concert last evening in Christ church parlors.

The program was one of great excellence and every number was most heartily received.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The announcement of the first big river excursion for this season comes from the Ladies' Industrial society of the First Baptist church. The large W. W. steamer, which has been wintered during the past few months at St. Louis, will come to La Crosse for the first time this year on Saturday, June 6, and the ladies' society of the Baptist church has chartered the boat for the afternoon and evening of that day. The excursions by the Baptist ladies have always been very popular but committees have already been appointed to make this coming excursion the most enjoyable of any yet given.

The Ladies' Aid society of the English Lutheran church will meet next Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. Larson will serve.

The Central W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. H. E. Wheaton on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A reception of new members will be a feature of the afternoon.

The Ladies' society of the Presbyterian church held the last meeting of the year at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Suiter on Thursday afternoon. About 30 were present. Next Thursday afternoon the ladies will have a picnic at Myrick park.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Emil T. Mueller of 211 South Sixth street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jennie E., to W. B. Fraser. The wedding will take place the 10th of June.

WEDDED ON THURSDAY

The marriage of Miss Margaret Kehr to Rev. A. Kern of Inland, Neb., took place at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Joe Matlak, on Thursday. The house was beautifully decorated in palms and ferns while the beautiful smilex was artistically mingled with roses and carnations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Kegel of Lansing, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Kern left at noon for their future home at Inland, Neb. The out of town guests were: Mrs. F. Schick, Mrs. J. H. Heiser and Mrs. Katherine Kehr of Minneapolis, Mrs. Twendle, Mr. H. Kehr and daughter, Mrs. G. L. Saam Mrs. Estey of Lansing Iowa, and Mrs. Fred Kehr of Soldiers Grove, Wis.

MANUAL TRAINING AND DRAWING EXHIBIT

An interesting art exhibit of the drawing and manual training work of all the grades of the La Crosse schools, will be held Thursday and Friday, May 28 and 29, at the Seventh district school, corner of Kane and Gillette streets. This exhibit is given on the North side, so that all the parents will have an opportunity to see the work. On the 4th and 5th of June the exhibit will be brought to the High school, thus giving everyone a chance to see what the school children have been doing in these interesting branches this year.

IN PERSONAL VEIN.

Mr. Theodore Faville, son of Rev. and Mrs. Henry Faville, who is teaching in Robert college, Constantinople, Turkey, spent his spring vacation of one month in Palestine. The last letter received from him was from Jerusalem. Mr. Faville will return to America in July, after an absence of three years in Europe.

Mrs. C. E. Winslow, 715 Pine street, is in Minneapolis for a few weeks' stay.

Mme. Conklin has had as her guests the past week, Mr. and Mrs. DeSoc, of Minneapolis.

Miss Edith Doud of Winona was a visitor with friends the past week.

Mrs. Edward J. Williams of Panama, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Burton, left for the east last week. She has been visiting friends in Chicago and New York, and will sail for Panama next Monday, the 25th.

Miss Nannie Colwell, who recently underwent an operation in St. Luke's hospital in Chicago, is reported as steadily improving. Dr. Bernard Dorset, of the State hospital in St. Peter, was in attendance upon her nearly a week. Mrs. Dorset is at present with Miss Colwell and they will return home together.

Dr. Morikubo returned last evening from Davenport, Ia., where he has been on business. He is a guest at the home of L. A. Harrison, South Seventh street, for a short time.

Mrs. C. G. Violet of Minneapolis, formerly Ellen Riley of this city, is here visiting relatives and friends for a few days, before starting on an extended trip east.

FIREPROOF SAVES BUILDING

Same Boy Knocked Out of a Chair a Year Ago and Escape Was Considered a Miracle

OWATONNA, Minn., May 23.—Lightning struck Kelly hall, the boys' dormitory of Pillsbury academy, a 4-story building Wednesday night. The bolt hit the fire escape at the roof, running along the iron and entering a third story room by one of the iron braces. There was a bed against the wall at that place and the lightning set the mattress on fire.

The occupant of the bed, Clarence Dahl, a 12-year-old boy from Brownsville, Minn., was awakened about 11 o'clock by the smoke and went into another cadet's room to sleep, closing his own door. The fire smoldered until 6:30 a. m. today, when it was discovered and put out.

The room was gutted but the building being fireproof, no damage was done elsewhere.

The same boy was knocked out of a chair last year by lightning. It is considered a miracle that he was not killed Wednesday night.

There were about 300 boys in the dormitory, and had the building not been fireproof, several lives would probably have been lost.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Williamette, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute kidney trouble. O. T. Erhart.

NORTHWEST IN BRIEF

WATERTOWN, S. D.—Local sportsmen are rejoicing over the arrival of 800,000 perch-pike minnows for planting in Lake Kampeska. This is the largest single shipment ever made by the government into this part of the country.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa.—The second disbursement of funds of the defunct Iowa Business Men's Building and Loan association has been ordered by Judge J. M. Parker of the district court. This distribution is to be of 2 per cent on the withdrawal value of the stock which has been returned to the receiver.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—The business men and other residents of Garden City have inaugurated a movement to have that place incorporated under the general laws of the state. A mass meeting soon will be held for the purpose of discussing the proposition.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D.—About forty of the leading business men of this city met and organized a new bank to be known as the People's National bank and officered as follows: President, J. F. Parks; vice president, S. L. Kirtley; cashier, A. C. Forney.

FARIBAULT, Minn.—Capt. M. J. Lenihan of the general staff, with headquarters at Washington, spent a day at Shattuck military school inspecting and drilling the cadets.

MEMONIE, Wis.—As a result of negotiations which have been pending for more than a year, the Memonie Electric Light and Power company has just closed a contract with the Chippewa Valley Railway, Light and Power company for electric current with which to conduct its business. Officials of the company have presented a detailed statement of its rates and plans and the circumstances under which the plant is operated to the state railroad commission, receiving its sanction of methods and approval of rates.

WASHBURN, Wis.—The two boats which went ashore off Houghton Point just above this city Monday night during a heavy fog have been released after hard pulling by several tugs. The boats were the steamer Mitchell, a steel boat, and her tow. They smashed together as they went aground. They had been running at fairly good speed. The steamer was smashed up about the stern and the schooner had a hole punched in her bow.

WINONA, Minn.—Rev. Philip Von Rohr of this city, president of the Wisconsin Lutheran synod, who is ill at his home, yesterday received special recognition from the combined synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states in session at Fort Wayne. Greetings and best wishes signed by all the prominent men at the gathering were sent.

SETTLED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Holds That by the Time the Person Offended Had Reached the Person Speaking He Would Cool Off

WINONA, Minn., May 23.—Judge H. L. Buck, of the municipal court here, holds that no action lies for breach of peace where the words were spoken over the telephone, although such words would be actionable if spoken directly to the person addressed. He holds that by the time the person offended had reached the person speaking he would have time to cool off. The action was brought because of abusive words alleged to have been spoken by Lawrence Kreidermacher to Mrs. Mary Simon over the telephone at Oak Ridge in this county. The trouble arose between neighbors because of the stock running at large.

LOGS SCATTERED BY HIGH WINDS

STILLWATER, Minn., May 23.—Not in the memory of the old river men have there been such gales in and around this city as those of Thursday afternoon, yesterday forenoon for a time and again yesterday afternoon. Although a great majority of the logs are in good harbors, the wind caught them over the St. Croix between this city and South Stillwater, driving them away from mill ponds here they were being taken in to be sawed. There was a blockade against the south side of the pontoon bridge.

The high wind prevented tugs getting out to handle logs yesterday and today. Steamboats sought good harbors and are unable to leave with logs and lumber. Boat houses used to cover gasoline launches were thrashed about and broken to some extent. The George H. Atwood bath house was wrecked. His large gasoline launch, the Julia B., was taken out and saved from serious damage.

DEATH REVEALS WEALTH

CROOKSTON, Minn., May 23.—The death of Carl Otto Nelson, a bachelor of Fertile, twenty miles south of here, revealed the fact that he was the possessor of considerable property, besides $2,500 in cash on deposit in a Fertile bank. Nelson has been working as a common laborer for years, and he was believed to be a poor man. He is survived by no relatives in this country, but several brothers and sisters reside in Skitingsford, Sweden. Petition was made before the probate court today by J. A. Gregerson of Fertile that A. F. Cronquist, a Fertile banker, be appointed administrator of the estate.

WOMAN FRIGHTFULLY CUT

ADRIAN, Minn., May 23.—Mrs. Julius Ludke was working in the field, when the horses became frightened and ran away, throwing her under the discs of the machinery. Five ribs and her hip were broken, her abdomen was torn part way open and there were several gashes cut in her breast. She is still alive, but it is feared that her wounds will be fatal.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal diseases of taken in time. O. T. Erhart.

ACID INSTEAD OF LINIMENT

WATERLOO, Iowa, May 23.—A. N. Peterson of Nashua has suffered severe burns as the result of applying carbolic acid instead of liniment. Mr. Peterson had been afflicted for some time with rheumatism and his wife undertook to apply home treatment. By mistake she got the acid bottle instead of the liniment; poured a quantity in her palm and then rubbed her husband's spine. The flesh was eaten off her hand and Mr. Peterson's back, rendering the services of a physician necessary.

COAL TAR IN BRANDY

PUTS CHECK ON FREE RANGE

PIERRE, S. D., May 23.—Complete returns show that the homesteaders won by more than 750 majority in the herd law election held in Lyman county. Every precinct gave a majority for the change except Oacoma, the county seat, which voted against it. This is the entering sledge against free range west of the Missouri. The Lyman county vote is just as effective for the border of Stanley as it is for Lyman, as a steer running at large is likely to get onto forbidden territory at any time.

GETS $7,000 FOR SPOUSE

WATERLOO, Iowa, May 23.—Mrs. Will Heisler of Parkersburg has been granted a verdict of $7,000 against her father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Heisler of Grundy county. Mrs. Heisler brought suit for damages in the amount of $25,000, charging her husband's affections were alienated by his parents. This suit grew out of domestic trouble in which it is alleged Will Heisler cruelly beat the plaintiff in the case. She sued for divorce and alimony and got both.

WIFE FOLLOWS HUSBAND.

RIPON, Wis., May 23.—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bushnell, pioneer residents, will be buried here this afternoon. Mr. Bushnell died Monday night after a brief illness and his wife soon followed. Mrs. Bushnell had been critically ill for some time and was not made aware of her husband's death. Mr. Bushnell came to Ripon fifty years ago and engaged in business, continuing until a short time before his death. He was an Oddfellow and had held several civic offices. Mrs. Bushnell was 74 years of age and her husband 81.

A GENERAL REHABILITATION

The need of great wisdom is the consideration of the problems facing those broken in health becomes more apparent each day. The average wage-earner who has toiled unceasingly for years, giving no thought to the little aches and pains which come and go, seemingly leaving no ill-effects, suddenly awakens and has some of the phases of the general rehabilitation needed forcibly brought to his attention by condition which cannot be thrown aside easily. His head aches, his back hurts, he feels languid, has no interest in anything, and work has become a burden. The small pains give way to dull aches which have come to stay, and his nervous system is all but depleted. He then learns that the old way of meeting what he has termed "not feeling well" is a thing of the past.

Gradually undermining his health is a thing called disease, which has heretofore been merely a shadow, the nervous system, in fact, the whole system, must be stimulated and given new life and strength to meet all requirements.

In rebuilding, great importance must be attached to the selection of a physician who is broad-minded, far seeing enough to study the case carefully, and who is equipped with natural diagnostic powers, together with a careful scientific training—augmented by skill, born of practical experience.

The difficulties which in so many cases are tremendous, are overcome only by skillful handling, so that one cannot afford to run any risks as to the results of treatment. Therefore, in recommending Dr. L. M. Turbin, the Specialist, who comes from Chicago to spend one day in our city every month, we feel that we are offering to our friends and neighbors, the services of a physician who will, in all cases, give to those who consult him, the best care, honest treatment and attention which insure beneficial results.

Dr. Turbin has proven, in the years we have had him with us, his ability to successfully cope with conditions which others have been unable to overcome. The Doctor may be consulted free of charge when he again visits La Crosse at the Hotel La Crosse Wednesday, May 27th.

CURE BY CUTICURA
SEEMED LIKE MAGIC

"Words cannot express the gratitude I feel for what Cuticura Remedies have done for my daughter, Adeline. She is fifteen years of age, and had never had anything the matter with her skin until four months ago, when an eruption broke out on her chest. The first symptom was a redness, and then followed itching and blisters, which would break and run matter. I took her to a doctor, and he pronounced it to be eczema of a very bad form. He treated her, but instead of being checked, the disease spread. It showed itself on her back, and then quickly spread upwards until the whole of her head was affected, and all her hair had to be cut off. The pain she suffered was excruciating, and what with that and the heat and tingling her life was almost unbearable. She became run down in health, and at times was very feverish, languid, and drowsy, and occasionally she was delirious. Her nerves were in such a low state that she could not bear to be left alone. In spite of the cold weather she would insist on having her bedroom window open, and would lean out on the window-sill. She did not have a proper hour's sleep for many nights. The second doctor we tried afforded her just as little relief as the first, and I really do not know what we should have done if we had not read how Cuticura cured a similar case. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, and before the Ointment was three-quarters finished every trace of the disease was gone. It really seemed like magic. Her hair is coming on nicely, and I still apply the Cuticura Ointment as I find it increases the growth wonderfully. Mrs. T. W. Hyde, 1, Ongar Place, Brentwood, Essex, England, Mar. 8, 1907."

WE LEAD THE WORLD

Telephone men are not content to be abreast of the times. They keep a little ahead. In 1900, for example, when the United States had a population of 76,000,000, there were about 675,000 telephones in the national system of Bell companies, or one telephone for about every 112 people.

At the beginning of the present year the country had an estimated population of 84,000,000, and the Bell system, of which the Wisconsin Telephone Company is a part, had 3,068,833 telephones in operation, or one for about each 28 people.

In short, while the population of the country increased in these six years somewhat more than 10 per cent, the growth of subscribers in the national system was in excess of 400 per cent. Last year alone the system gained 500,000 subscribers, which was more than the total number listed 10 years ago.

The United States leads the world in telephone development and is increasing the lead year by year. Wisconsin shares in this supremacy.

DOCTORS SAY MRS. SHAW WAS KILLED

THAT PRETTY WIDOW WAS VICTIM OF VIOLENCE IS SHOWN

WILL RELEASE YOUNG ABRAMS

The Theory Now Is that the Wealthy Widow Was the Victim of Some Unknown Ruffian

APPLETON, Wis., May 23.—Two important facts, which in the opinion of the authorities substantiate the theory that violence was inflicted upon Mrs. Carrie Shaw before her body was immersed in the mill pond in the village of Hortonville Tuesday night, were revealed by the post mortem examination. The facts that there was but little water in the woman's lungs when her body was removed from the mill pond and also that there had been no water on the stomach is considered as almost conclusive proof that the woman was in a semi-comatose condition when she struck the water.

The opinions of medical men have been sought and it has been found that had Mrs. Shaw been fully conscious when she was immersed and had she intended to commit suicide, her lungs and practically the entire pulmonary system would have been filled with water after life had departed. Physicians also declare that a person fully conscious when drowning will invariably swallow large quantities of water, which will either remain in the stomach or will be emitted by the victim, in which event every particle of food on the stomach will also be emitted.

The examination revealed the fact that there was no water at all in the stomach and that there still remained there a half-digested meal. These two points are taken by the district attorney and others acquainted with the case as conclusive evidence that the wealthy and handsome young widow was first assailed before the body was immersed.

To Release: Abrams.

Because it seems to have been pretty conclusively established that Charles Abrams of New London, the young man who is in jail here awaiting investigation into the case, took the 11 o'clock train for his home in New London, and because there are several persons who declare positively that they saw Mr. Abrams and Mrs. Shaw together near the depot only a few minutes before train time the district attorney's office is practically convinced that Abrams has no knowledge of the tragedy and he probably will be released after the inquest to be held at Hortonville on Monday.

Ruffian Attacked Her?

It is supposed that Mrs. Shaw left Abrams at the depot when the latter boarded the train for his home in New London. She had a considerable distance to go to return to her home, the course taking her near to the pond where her lifeless body was found the next morning. It was after 11 o'clock at night and she had no escort. Hortonville has been the scene of a number of robberies and a safe-blowing affair recently, and it is believed by some that the comely young woman might have been attacked by one of the ruffians who had recently been seen about the village.

While the district attorney and others in the case are firm in their suspicion that foul play had been committed, their work on the case only adds to the complications and the deepest mystery still surrounds the whole affair.

NEW LONDON, Wis., May 23.—The body of Mrs. Shaw was brought here for burial beside her husband, John Shaw, in Floral Hill cemetery. The services were held from the Christian church and were largely attended.

Mrs. S. Joyce, 180 Sullivan St., Claremont, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years' standing. It certainly is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." O. T. Erhart.

THEATRE STAGE ARE MARRIED ON

FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 23.—A novelty in the line of marriages took place at a local theatre, when James Mathews, colored, of this city, took as his bride, Miss Lulu Pennick of Terre Haute, Ind., also colored. The couple were married on the stage during the intermission after the first part of a minstrel show. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. J. Kennedy of the A. M. E. Zion church. Lawrence Shirley was the best man and his wife accompanied the bride. The wedding march was played by the minstrel orchestra, and after the two had been made one, and both the minister and the groom had kissed the happy bride, the newly married couple and their attendants marched back to the box.

ATLEY PETERSON OUT FOR CONGRESS

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., May 23.—Atley Peterson of Soldiers Grove announced his candidacy for congress in the Third district before the September republican primaries. Mr. Peterson was railroad commissioner four years and was in the assembly four years. He is one of the delegates-at-large to the republican national convention.

HUSBAND DIES IN FULL VIEW OF WIFE

CHAS. FOXGROVER OF NEENAH DROWNS WHEN BOAT TURNS

GRIEF CRAZES HELPLESS WIFE

And She Makes Desperate Attempt to Kill Herself; Man's Companion Is Rescued

NEENAH, Wis., May 23.—Within full view of his wife, who stood on the river bank, helpless, Charles Foxgrover, a business man, perished in the Fox river while fishing.

Accompanied by Eugene Roblee he anchored his boat below the Neenah dam. Turbulent waters broke the anchorage, capsizing the boat and precipitating both men into the water. Foxgrover, who is an expert swimmer, was caught in the undertow and held on the bottom. Roblee, who cannot swim, drifted swiftly down with the current and was rescued by others in nearby boats. He was unconscious when taken from the water, but physicians revived him.

Mrs. Foxgrover in her paroxysm of grief, inflicted bodily injuries on herself and had to be watched carefully to prevent further harm. Roblee is confined to his home, completely prostrated by the shock of his narrow escape from death and the tragic end of his companion.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

CHIPPEWA FALLS—Game Warden J. R. De Long and S. B. Kirkoff caused the arrest of nine men on the charge of spearing fish at night with artificial light in Sand lake, Muskegon and Rice lake, Rusk county. The men pleaded guilty and were each fined $25 and $5.00 costs.

WONDERLAND
Above in the tree sings a robin,
I lie here on the ground,
I wonder how he learned that song,
And where his wings he found.

If I could become a robin,
And sing the livelong day,
I wonder if things that puzzle me,
Would roll like the clouds away.

What is it makes the stars so bright?
What makes the sky so blue?
Do the angles, I wonder, up in their homes,
See me as they look through.

And the brilliant rainbow colors,
After the shower is o'er,
Puzzle my brain with a wonder,
Making me wish to see more.

But God is up in his heaven
And the robin sings for joy;
He knows why he made all things
And made me only a boy.

A CHAT WITH THE EDITOR
My Dear Juniors:
Another week has rolled around,
and I am pleased to have so many new members to greet. Just think,
if 6 or 7 of you had done what Myrtle Larson had, what kind of a page
do you think we would have this week? I am glad to give Myrtle the prize for her good work.

I almost think that a lot of our little out of town friends have forgotten us, I hope not, but we haven't heard from many of our Juniors for many weeks. It is nearly Decoration day—one week from today will be our honored Decoration day, and I suppose nearly all my Juniors will march in the procession of the school children who help to decorate the soldiers' graves.

Now for next week, I wish you would write a little story on Decoration day, and tell what you are going to do on that day, and what you like best about it.

I am sure we all hope it will not rain for we certainly have had rain enough, haven't we? How do you Juniors like the stories which are on our Junior page each week? I think the one this week is very good, don't you?

Hoping to hear from many of you
next week, I am,
Yours very sincerely,
BERTHA BURTON.

P. S.—Myrtle will you write and tell us whether you are coming to La Crosse or not. The prize will be at this office. B. B.

A JUNIOR WHO LIKES TO TEND BABIES

Dear Miss Burton:
I think the Junior story the last week was very interesting. I like to take care of babies best of all. My mother said that if I had one to take care of, I wouldn't like to, but as I am the youngest of the family I like to. Yesterday I went down to my sister's, and was playing with my nephew. He was born on the ninth of this month and is clever for his age. Sometimes, when he is sleeping, he will stretch and make queer faces so that sometimes I think he is awake when he isn't. Next to taking care of the babies, I like to feed the little chickens. We have nine of them and they are so cute,
but no one can pick any of them up because the old hen will get mad and pick them. I also like to weed the flower beds and water them. I planted quite a few of them this year and they are growing nice, but the chickens ate all the lettuce and radishes we planted. The little chickens eat the lettuce as soon as it appears above the ground.

Your loving Sunshiner, THECLA SCHIFFER.

THIS JUNIOR LIKES HER SCHOOL WORK

Kind Editor:
I think I like my school work better than the rest of my work, especially do I like arithmetic and geography. We have just finished percentage. I like it very much, though some pupils seem to think it difficult. Decimals are easy too, but one sometimes gets puzzled about the decimal points. In geography we are studying about Europe. That is the country I like to study about. The states of South America is nice but it is not quite as interesting as Europe. I am beginning to take more interest in sewing now, so perhaps after a while I will like that almost as well as my school work. I am on the Blue side.

Well, I will close now, hoping you will excuse me for not writing for so long, as I have been very occupied with my school studies. I remain,
Your loving Junior,
LAURA GROVER.

LIKES TO STUDY.

Dear Miss Burton:
I like my school studies the best of all because it is of great use to me later on to have a good education.
The studies I like best are: Geography, grammar and history. School opens at 8:30 in the morning and closes at 3 in the afternoon. Lately

we have had three contests in school, one in spelling, one in reading, and one in arithmetic. We are having a contest in geography now. These are fine reviews. We get ten questions. If they are correct they are marked ten, but if we have any error
one is taken off; for two errors our papers are marked eight, and so on.
I will close. I belong to the Blues.

FROM MYRTLE LARSON

Kind Miss Burton:
As our topic for this week is "The Kind of Work I Like Best," I will try and write on that subject. I like to sew and cook the best of all kinds of work. We have sewing in our school on Mondays and Thursdays.
The first kind of sewing we had were patches.

One kind of patch was the square patch, another the round patch. I made mamma a round apron for Christmas. I am now finishing a large lunch-cloth which is double hemstitched. I know how to make cake and also think I could bake bread if I tried. I belong to the "Blues." I am sending in some members. I am very busy in school
now as we are preparing for examination. After school lets out I will try and write a little more staidly.

The following are the members
which I have got:
1. Hazel Larson.
2. May Williams.
3. Eva Slack.
4. Ollie Helgerson.
5. Gladys Nelson.
6. Elenora Nelson.
7. Lillian Kromej.
8. Raymond Lind.
9. Carl Lind.
My members have enclosed their letters in my letter.

Your Sunshiner,
MYRTLE LARSON.
Viroqua, Wis.

(I think Myrtle must be a worker, alright. We are glad to welcome all these new Juniors into our club.)

THESE ARE OUR NEW JUNIORS.

Miss Burton:
I would like to join the Junior
Sunshine club.

I would like to join the "Blues."
I was asked by Myrtle Larson.

Your Sunshiner,
RAYMOND LIND.

Kind Miss Burton:
I want to join the Tribune Sunshine club. I will also join the side of the "Blues." I am one of the members which Myrtle Larson has got this week. I will try and write regularly.

ELNORA NELSON.

Dear Miss Burton:
I would like to join the Sunshine
Junior club. I was asked by Myrtle Larson, and would like to be on the "Blue" side.

OLLIE HELGERSON.

Dear Miss Burton:
I thought I would join the Sunshine club. Myrtle got me for a member. I will join the "Blues."

I go in the third grade. My teacher's name is Miss Harris. I am eight years old. I am Myrtle Larson's sister.

Well I will close for this time,
hoping to see my letter in print, I remain,
Your Sunshiner,

HAZEL LARSON.

Dear Miss Burton:
I would like to join the Sunshine
club and be on the "Blue" side.

Your Junior,
GLADYS NELSON.

P. S.—Myrtle Larson asked me to join.

Dear Miss Burton:
I would like to join the Sunshine
Junior club. I was asked by Myrtle Larson and would like to be on the
"Blue" side.

EVA SLACK.

Kind Miss Burton:
I wish to join the Tribune Sunshine club. I will also join the side
members which Myrtle Larson has gotten this week. I will try and write regularly.

MAY WILLIAMS.

Kind Miss Burton:
Sunshine club. Myrtle Larson asked me to join.

CARL LIND.

Dear Miss Burton:
I would like to join the Sunshine
Junior club. I was asked by Myrtle
"Blue" side.

I will write regularly.
Your Sunshiner,
LILLIAN KROMEJ.

LIKES TO CLEAN HOUSE.

Dear Miss Burton:
Well, as I have not written for so long, I thought I would write today.
The work I like best is house cleaning, because it makes everything seem fresh and look so bright. And there are so many strange things to look at when everything is rearranged.

The room I like to clean best is the room where all the white dresses are kept. Some make you laugh because they are old fashioned, but most of them are very pretty. In this room are also colored dresses, and all the girls' trunks and satchels.

In summer we go up there and get our summer dresses and put away
our winter dresses. Where there are so many girls, it does not take long to put everything in order.
Well, as this is all I can think of,
I will close. I am,
Your loving Junior,
EUGENIA RYAN.
Age 13 years. 1017 Market St.

ANOTHER GIRL LIKES TO SEW.

Dear Miss Burton:
As I did not write for a long time
I thought I would write this time.
I think I like sewing. I like other work too, but sewing is my favorite work. We have sewing after school.
I like to run the machine, and I like to sew clothes for my dollies.
I have three dollies to dress. I like to hem dish towels and handkerchiefs. We are making aprons
now. I like to sew at them.
I have no more to write, so I will close. I belong to the Blues.
Your loving Junior,
LILLIAN BECKER.
1017 Market street.

LIKES TO SEW.

Dear Miss Burton:
The topic of this week is to be about the kind of work I like best of all. I like to sew best of all. I like to sew for my dollies. The more I sew the better I like it and the more I know how to sew. It is a nice thing to be a dressmaker and to know how to sew your own clothes. I know how to make aprons and dresses and a few more things if they are cut out for me and pinned together. We sew about an hour every day. We mend all our clothes and make all the girls' dresses and aprons.
This is all I can tell you, for this time. I am on the Blues' side.
Your little friend,
JOSIE LYONS.

LIKES TO MAKE FANCY WORK.

Dear Miss Burton:
As the topic is "The Work I Like Best," I will try and write about it.
I like to make fancy work, and I like to go to school too. I like to make fancy work so that when I am big I will know how to do it, and I can show others how to do it. I like to sew and hope some day I will be able to make my own clothes. I belong to the Reds. I am,
Your loving Junior,
LOUISA BUNK.
Age 12 years. 1017 Market street.

LIKES TO COOK.

Dear Miss Burton:
As the subject this week is "The Kind of Work I Like Best," I will try to write about it. I like cooking
the best of all. I like to cook rabbits. When we were at home we children would all wait the rabbits hind legs because the hind legs are fatter. But my grandpa used to catch them so he used to eat the hind legs. And I like to cook partridges, too, with dumplings with them. They are very good that way.
The gizzard of the chicken is what we all wanted too. Sometimes I help
a little while in the kitchen here on Saturday morning. All the little girls like to work a while in the kitchen but they often send us away
to play because there would be too
many little cooks in the way.
I belong to the Reds side. I will close.

Your loving Junior,
ALBINA DEAN.

LIKES TO GO TO SCHOOL.

Dear Miss Burton:
As our topic this week is what we like to do the best, well I think I like to go to school the best, because I learn so many nice pieces and have so many nice playmates.

I also have a very nice teacher.
My address is 908 Adams street.
Your loving Junior,
CATHERINE PHIFER.

Age six years.
(A very nice little letter from a six year old girl. Your letter shows that you like to go to school, Catherine.)

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A fine Newfoundland dog and a mastiff had a fight over a bone, or some other trilling matter. They were fighting on a bridge, and being blind with rage over they went into the water.

The banks were so high that they were forced to swim some distance
before they came to a landing place.
It was very easy for the Newfoundland
dog—he was as much at home
in the water as a seal—but not so with poor Bruce. He struggled and tried his best to swim, but made little headway.

Old Bravo, the Newfoundland, had reached the land and turned to look at his old enemy. He saw plainly that his strength was failing and that he was likely to drown. So what should he do but plunge in, seize him gently by the collar, and keeping his nose above water, tow him safely into port.

It was curious to see the dogs
look at each other as soon as they shook their wet coats. Their glances spoke plainly as words. "We never will quarrel any more."—North Carolina Presbyterian.

A little girl was overheard talking
to her doll, whose arm had come off, exposing the sawdust stuffing. "You
dear, good, obedient dolly, I knew I had told you to chew your food fine,
but I didn't think you would chew it
so fine as that."—Tit-Bits.

Newbro's Herpicide

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of NEWBRO'S HERPI-CIDE than from all other hair remedies combined.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ. It eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and permits a natural hair development by destroying the tiny vegetable growth (a germ or microbe) that causes hair destruction.
Nature constantly struggles to supply life and vigor to the hair, but the dandruff germ saps this vitality and strangles the life out of the hair.

For regular toilet use, Newbro's Herpicide easily occupies first

MRS. ANNA CONNER

JUNIOR STORY

Herbert Jones was 12 years of age. He lived with his parents on a farm several miles from town. He was a brave, industrious boy, well-liked by all who knew him. He was fond of fishing, and of all the country sports, and when not in school or busy with his work on the farm he spent much of his time on the river bank angling for minnies.

One bright day in early April Herbert decided to go fishing. The week had been a rainy one, pouring
for hours every day, and the ground was too water-soaked for plowing or garden work. So Herbert had nothing to do but spend the day
angling, hoping to bring home a fine string of fish for supper.

"I'll show you a fine catch when I come home this evening," Herbert said to his mother as he left the house, fishing rod over shoulder and bait in the form of angleworms in an old tin cat. "Just you and dad fix up your appetites for a fine supper
of fish," he added, waving his fishing rod in farewell.

"Be mighty careful, son, not to fall into the river," called out his mother in warning. "The river is very high now, since the heavy spring
rains, and you might find it too deep for wading and so cold that it might produce cramps. So, be very cautious."

"All right, momsey," called back Herbert merrily. "I'll hang my clothes on a hickory limb and not go near the water."

En route to the river Herbert was obliged to cross a little railroad ditch.
It had been what the farmers called a "draw" but when the railroad was built this "draw" had been dug much deeper to form a drain ditch. During the rainy season this ditch became quite a pretentious stream, almost filling to its banks with water from the surrounding hills.

When Herbert arrived at the ditch
he was astonished to find it was fuller of water than he had ever seen
it, and he could not cross it by leaping from stone to stone, as had always been his habit. He was obliged to go half a mile out of his way to the railroad crossing, where he might walk across on the ties.

But hardly had Herbert stepped upon the ties when he noticed that a piece of timber, evidently from the trestle work was floating on the swollen stream. And, furthermore,
he noticed that the water was surging under the crossing like a very torrent, pouring down from all the hills around about and making of the "draw" a veritable river. As it dashed, seethed and roared about the base of the slight trestlework Herbert felt, or imagined he could feel

the ties and framework of steel tremble. He paused and looked below, scanning closely the framework beneath him. Only one sign of weakness was apparent, the loose beam
or piece of timber, which was floating away. But, surely, he thought, if one piece of the trestlework had become loosened, other parts connected with it must be insecure. "I don't like the idea of the afternoon
train coming along over this crossing. But—I reckon the section men will be along before noon and examine this place. They know enough of these high water tricks to keep on the alert during rainy times. I guess
it's not my lookout."

And deciding thus, Herbert went on his way whistling a happy tune to the time of his feet. He reached the fishing place to find the river
so high that he knew no fish would bite that day.

"Now, isn't that just my luck!"
he exclaimed in a voice of disappointment. "When I had hoped to take home a dozen fine fish for supper,
too, and momsey and dad expecting the fine treat. Poor old dad, he's so blue over not being able to send me away to college next year. When Billy and Tom Brown went away to school last year dad said to me:
'Never mind, next year shall come your turn. You shall go to the best school in this state. Study had this year, and when next year rolls round
you'll be ready to enter a finer school than our little one of the district.' But last year our crops failed. So the outlook for any school except our little district school is now out of the question. It's harder on dad and momsey than it is on me. They want to give me every advantage, and it hurts them awfully to be too poor to do so. Well, I can get a good education right in our own little country school. But—I really would like to go away."

The other boys go away every year to school, and I'd like it, too. But I don't ever mean to fret about it to dad and momsey. They aren't to blame, goodness knows. They'd go without bread and meat to give me a chance. So I'll plug along and do the best I can another year, and maybe another and another year on top of that. If only we could depend on our crops and cattle! But—well, what's the matter with me, anyway.
I came out to fish, and not to hold a debating society with Herbert Jones, Esquire."

Then Herbert sat down on the bank and fixed a bit of bait on the hook. "It's no use throwing in the line," he said to himself, "for no fish could be induced to bite with the water in such a turmoil. But there might be one playing along close to the bank, and seeing a nice,

fat worm would take it as he passed by."

But all in vain did Herbert throw in his line. The swiftness of the water carried the bait as far down stream as the length of the line would allow, and several times the hook became entangled in some floating driftwood.

"Oh, there's no use," declared
Herbert, drawing in the line and rolling it up. "I might sit here for several days—till the water falls—and not get so much as a nibble. So I'll just go home. I can always find work there, if it's nothing more than rolling carpet rags for momsey. Poor dear momsey! How she and dad do work for me. It's their one aim in life to do for their Herb. I wonder if I shall ever be able to return their many goodnesses to me? Well, whatever good luck comes into my life shall be shared by my momsey
and dad. Won't they be surprised when I go home and tell them how the river has risen since the last heavy rain? And that railroad ditch —that little draw. Gee! it's like a river, too. And it's dangerous, I'm afraid. Hope the section men have been along with their handcar and tools this morning. I didn't like the way that piece of timber had become loosened."

Herbert took up his fishing rod, throwing the bait on the ground and telling the worms to "make for tall timber till he wanted to go fishing
again," and started toward his home.
When nearing the railroad crossing
he was startled to see a part of the trestle work gone. That part of the road which was supported by the trestles had, of course, gone into the ditch also. And the waters rushing madly through the ditch were threatening to break away the banks, which would mean great damage to the railroad.

"Well, now, how am I to get across that stream?" Herbert questioned himself. "I don't like swimming, for the water is cold, besides being full of dangerous driftwood, caught all along the banks. But—what am I talking about? Go home and let the train come along without worrying me. I guess not." And Herbert turned his face in another direction,
going at full speed over the railroad track.

It was about noon, so Herbert judged by the sun. The train was due at that point at 1:30. He had an hour and a half. He could reach the house of the section hands before that time and they could signal

the train as it came along.

But he had calculated without thinking twice, as he said to himself half an hour later. The "Draw" or railroad ditch which he had left behind him wound about in such a way that the railroad crossed
it a second time two miles further on. And to Herbert's great surprise the trestlework at the second crossing had also been washed out.
Here was a dilemma. How should he get across? The section hands and to reach their place he must cross this swollen stream. And there was but one way to do it. He must swim.

It was a dangerous undertaking, but Herbert could not allow thought of personal danger to detain him in his duty. But suppose the section men had already been there and seen the washout! They had no doubt sent a wire already to the train officials at the station five miles away. And why should he, Herbert, risk his life
by swimming the stream if the section men had already attended to their duty?

He was on the point of returning to his own home when a shrill whistle came on the air. It was the train, and it was whistling as it drew close to the section hands' houses. Herbert bent his ear to the ground. In an other minute he would know what to do in the matter. He heard the rumbling of the heavy train as it flew along the steel way. It must have passed the section hands' quarters
without stopping, for the rumble did not cease for an instant. Instead of doing so, it had increased in sound and speed. No the train had passed the section hands without warning from the men placed there to keep watch over the road.

Herbert's mind was instantly made up. Jerking off his shoes, coat and hat, he threw himself into the turbulent water that rushed so madly through the deep-banked ditch. The stream was not wide, but it was a perilous time for Herbert, and when he at last reached the opposite bank and drew himself out of the water by catching hold of some weeds and grass he was all but exhausted. Then, dripping and barefooted, he ran along the railroad track towards the coming train.

It was only a few minutes till the train came in sight around the foot of a steep hill. It was coming at high speed, and Herbert flew toward it, waving his arms madly and crying out, "Stop! Stop!" But fearing that the engineer might not understand

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

HAS it ever occurred to you the value of the treasure which is lost every day in the city? Watches and pins carelessly attached are lost. Purses, bank-books, checks, bonds, valuable papers and keepsakes, whose value cannot be estimated, are lost every day.

Were it not for the Lost and Found columns of this paper thousands of dollars' worth of valuables would be lost to their owners forever, but since The Tribune is read in all parts of the city, it is now possible for anybody who loses anything to insert an advertisement, and it is possible for the finder who is honest—and the majority of people are honest—to locate the owner of anything that may be found.

OFFICIALS OF "Y" CAMP ARE NAMED

SUMMER PLACE OPENED FOR THE SEASON JUNE 1ST

MEETING IS HELD LAST NIGHT

Docks are to be installed and Families Will be Camped There This Year; Fessler Has Cottage

At a meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. arrangements were made to open the Y. M. C. A. camp, up river, by June 1st. George H. Clark, who donated the land to the association and who has donated the use of his launch, is chairman of the camp committee. P. T. Schulze was made secretary-treasurer; E. E. Dow and P. L. Cilley, the launch engineers, and F. J. Corey camp superintendent. The executive committee is composed of George H. Clark, P. M. Brink and O. J. Ash.

The camp will be equipped with booms for the swimmers and a 16-foot wide landing dock for the launches. Space has been cleared for many tents, and Mr. Voigt expects to build a new cottage there this summer.

Mr. Fessler, of the firm of Fessler & Dahl, will take his family to the camp June 1st for a six-weeks' stay, this being the first cottage contracted for. He will occupy Mr. Brink's cottage.

It is planned to run the camp on liberal lines this summer, families being invited, instead of only Y. M. C. A. boys in the past. Lunches will be served and there is every reason to believe the camp will be an unprecedented success.

THE NIGHT RIDERS RIDDLE FARM HOUSE

RIPLEY, O., May 23.—One of the worst outrages yet attempted by the night riders in Ohio was an armed attack on Walter Hook's residence this morning. A band of 35 riders attempted to destroy his tobacco beds five miles from here, at 3 o'clock. Hook was watching the beds. He retired to his house and ordered the party away. They didn't move and he fired a shotgun to scare them. The riders then sent a volley from 30 to 40 shotguns into the house, nearly tearing its end out, but none of Hook's family were injured. The riders then destroyed the beds. Hook's phone was cut and he was compelled to tramp three miles to a neighbor's to phone to town. Capt. Knauss with a party of twelve troopers is in pursuit of the riders.

the signal, he pulled off his gingham shirt, doing so as he ran, and waved it wildly over his head.

The train began to slow down very quickly. Passengers thrust their heads from the windows. A few seconds later the conductor and engineer accompanied by several excited passengers, were on the ground, talking to Herbert, whose breath was now quite gone.

From a special coach, which was attached to the rear of the train, came the president of the road; with him several high officials. When it was learned that Herbert had saved the train from a terrible wreck their words of thanks and praise knew no bounds.

"Here, little man, give us your address," said the president of the road. "You shall be amply rewarded for this. I tell you. Swam the swollen ditch and ran barefooted and dripping with cold water, in the teeth of this April wind, to save us? Well, I call that the act of a real hero."

A week later Herbert's reward came to him while he and his parents were at dinner. It was brought by a special messenger, and it was of a nature to make Herbert's mother weep for very joy, and his father to pat him on the back and say: "You deserve it all, my little son, for you ran a terrible risk to save the lives of those poor unsuspecting passengers on that train. You deserve it all, boy. And now you can go to college—not one year, but as many years as are needed for you to get your education. And I thank the good man—the president of our little railroad—for remembering your act of heroism, and for so richly rewarding you for it."

But for a few moments Herbert could not speak for the emotion which choked him. Then he said: "And you, mommsey, and dad, shall share my good luck. I would not be happy otherwise."

And that day there were three very happy persons in the little farmhouse of Jones, wife and son. And the two older ones declared there was not a braver or nobler boy in all the world than their little Herbert, to which the whole neighborhood agreed.—William Wallace, Jr.

THE LITTLE PEDDLERS.
We're playing we are peddlers, And we're going up and down, Just as they do to sell their goods To people in the town.

We each one have a basket, To carry on our backs, And we filled them full of everything And play they are our packs.

Now, won't you buy an elephant. It's not so very big, Perhaps you'd like a curly dog, Or our funny china pig.

Then we have some ribbons, Some apples and some cake, We'll be delighted to supply you, What choice you make.

PLATT TO RETIRE FROM SPOTLIGHT

WILL LEAVE SENATE BECAUSE OF WOOD NOTORIETY

WARNS AGAINST AUTOGRAPHS

Tells Other Public Men Not to Sign Their Names for Sirens' Lure

NEW YORK, May 23.—Basking in the warm glow of his vindication in court on Thursday, United States Senator Thomas C. Platt yesterday paid his compliments to Mae C. Wood, and incidentally made the positive announcement that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself at the expiration of his term a year from next March.

"I am winding up my public career," said the senator with a deep note of sadness, "and I cannot tell you with what regret I shall retire to private life. But it is decreed."

The senator made interesting comment, too, on various other matters of current import in which women and politics were curiously mingled. About Secretary Taft, for instance, whom he believes will be nominated and elected without difficulty; about Bryan, "who will run no better than usual"; Roosevelt, who will probably be a candidate to succeed Dewey in the senate; Hughes, who is out of touch with the republicans of New York, and Cortelyou, than who "there is no better man in the republican party for governor of this state."

Avoid Autograph Seeker.
Of particular semi-political interest is the reflection of Senator Platt on the habit of statesmen in scribbling their autographs on blank sheets of paper for all comers. A sheet of paper which the senator declared he signed in blank, but which turned up at the Mae Wood trial at the bottom of an acknowledgment of his alleged marriage to the lady, furnished the text for his sermon in camera.

"I'll never do it again as long as I live," declared Mr. Platt. "It is bad business and any public man who thoughtlessly obliges an autograph seeker by putting his name on a sheet of paper in that fashion, runs the risk of being trapped just as he attempted to trap me."

With a dry smile the senator added: "My advice to all public men is to be exceedingly careful to whom they give their autographs, and what they give them on. It is a fact generally known that all public men are peculiarly exposed to the attacks of women who seek them out, asking for positions or favors of different sorts and end by trying to blackmail them."

HOME RUN FATAL TO WISCONSIN
MADISON, Wis., May 23.—The Purdue baseball team defeated the Wisconsin University nine here on Thursday by the score of 2 to 1. The feature was a home run in the ninth inning by Tregesser, Purdue's big first baseman. Rice, who was on the rubber for the visitors, pitched a fine game, striking out fourteen men. Wisconsin had a chance to win in the seventh, when Knight slugged out a long hit, which looked good for three bases, but after a dispute he was called back to first for cutting the initial bag.

JOHN TURNER NOW MAJOR IN THIRD
MAUSTON, Wis., May 23.—John Turner has been promoted from the position of regimental quartermaster of the Third regiment to that of major in place of Major Joseph Ballard, retired. Major Turner comes to the position with a long record of honorable service. He has been in the state militia for more than twenty years, and commanded company D of the Third through the Porto Rico campaign in '98. He has been acting major of the First battalion since Major Ballard's retirement April 20.

GOULD DEFEATS MILLS.
LONDON, May 23.—Jay Gould defeated Eustace Mills again today at tennis, this time in the Olympic game series. He won in straight sets 6-5, 6-4, 6-4.

PARIS ACCIDENT FATAL.
PARIS, May 22.—Four workmen were killed and 42 injured in a machinery explosion in a sugar refinery here today.

MARKET PERSONALS.
John Hafner of South Ridge brought in a load of straw yesterday.

Henry Woelke marketed two loads of hay that he raised on his farm near Troyville.

John Feltmeyer of South Ridge sold a load of hay in the city Friday.

F. Jones of Galesville came in with a car load of potatoes which he sold in town. He says that the crops are rather backward in his section owing to too much rain and cold weather, and corn is ready to plant, but the rain is preventing it in a good many cases.

Tom Finn of Pine Creek was in town marketing butter and eggs. Mr. Finn's crops are fairly good this year, as far as can be ascertained.

L. Atkinson of La Crescent brought in a load of hay yesterday. Mr. Atkinson says that the hay is good this year so far, but he doesn't think the other crops are any better than in past years. His corn is rather late this year on account of wet weather.

Common and inferior canners hard to sell at bed-rock prices. Bulk of the light and medium to good steers 25c lower than a week ago. Choice to prime lots generally steady.

Five days' receipts this week 10,900 short of supplies a week ago, but arrivals were above demands.

Yearling steers and heifers a drug all week. These show greatest decline from last week and high time recently.

Poor inquiry for common light calves. These showed 25c decline from a week ago. Good calves steady with last week's close.

Hogs.
Prime hogs rather scarce. Common mixed dull sale. Good hogs advanced most. Few hogs left in first hands. Only $3,000 hogs in four days. Packers bought "gingerly" today. Top $5.85, highest since May 1. Market closed at low point of the day.

Range of prices much wider than a week ago. Big run west today, especially compared with Chicago's total. Receipts here a year ago next Monday 47,623 and two years ago 45,299.

Sheep.
Better tone to trade on late days. Top wool lambs $6.75, shorn $6.00. Most feeding lambs sold at $5.00. Prime spring lambs topped at $7.75.

Lambs formed large part of receipts. Prices unevenly lower than a week ago. Practically everything sold before 11 o'clock.

TODAY'S GRAIN GOSSIP
Bartlett F. & C. say: Taking into consideration the wheat crop outlook and cash situation it seems as though prices must work lower.

Finley Barrell Co. say: As the commercial situation is undoubtedly strong and as all possibilities favor the buying side, we naturally continue to feel that advantages should be taken of all good setbacks in order to make purchases and especially of Sept.

Ware & Leland: Wheat displays at the moment a well balanced tone with traders awaiting developments. Logan Bryan: Action of corn market for a few days is likely to depend very much on the favorable or unfavorable weather for getting the new crop into the ground.

Miller & Co.: We shall have a traders' market with the better class of railroad stocks a purchase on dips for moderate profits.

Logan Bryan Co.: Many securities purchased on the upturn are lodged with investors it is not likely that liquidation will ensue on a very large scale around these levels.

Farmers Are Hurrying Through with Work Between Showers—Seed Corn Scarce This Spring

The local markets show no sign of a change.

The farmers are busy at work planting corn and if the nice weather holds out the crops will be put in and the farmers will feel considerably easier, as they are anxious about the crop on account of the scarcity of seed corn.
